Last year Eb-bets fought for a late opening, and then scheduled no less than nine exhibition; games at Ebbets Field, beginning with April 1. While the regular season did not start until April 11, Ebbets had to have his team back in Brooklyn by Apri 6 to play the winter series with the Yankees, not a game of which was played. If Ebbets cut out his April exhibition games at Ebbets Field, the Flat-bush Squire would undoubtedly have an easier time convincing his confederates that they start their season too early, and a later date might be adopted for
